The Stockland Story

For 70 years we've been creating places that meet the needs of our customers and communities.

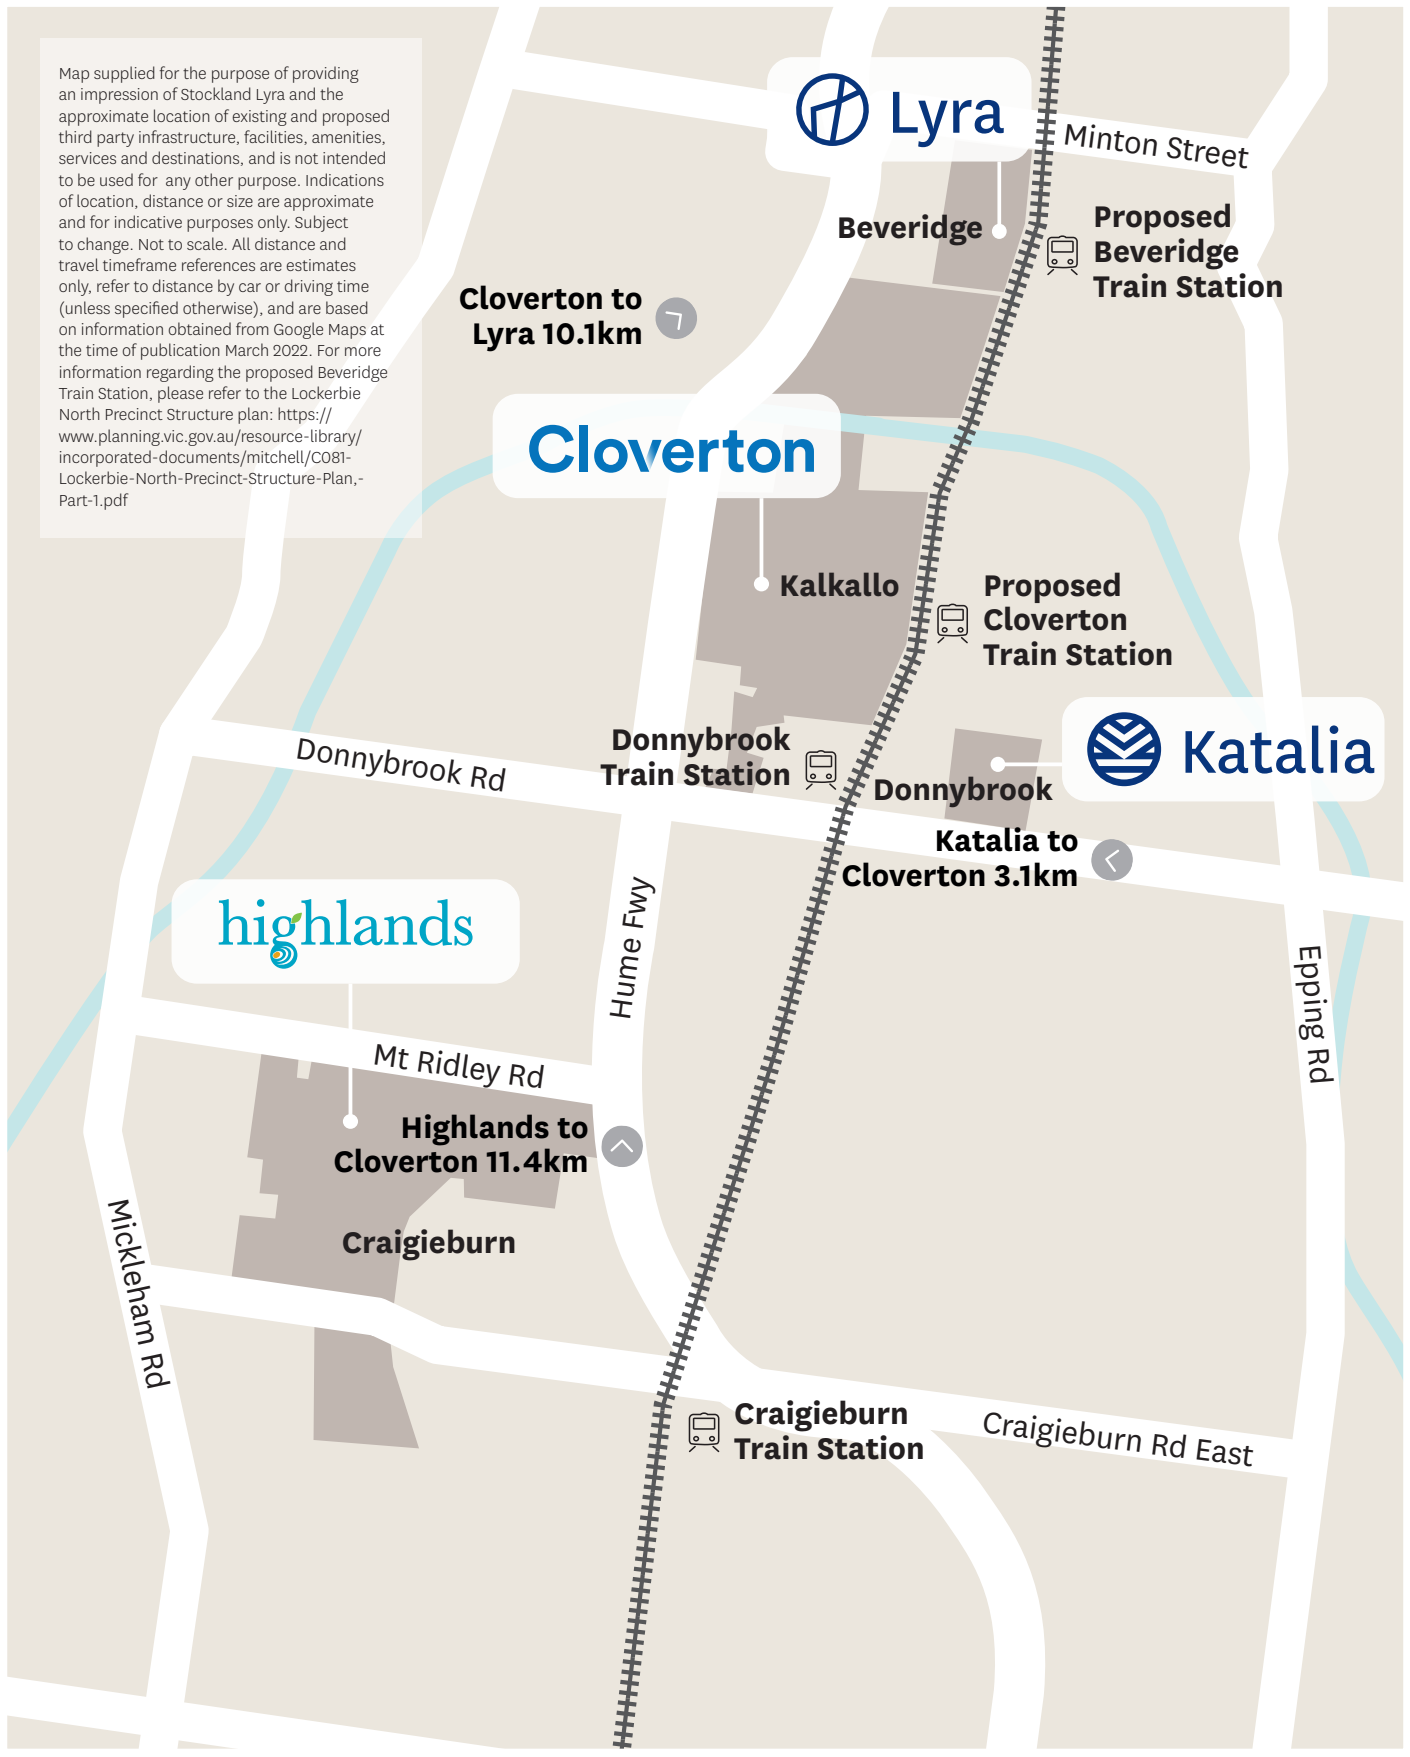

And for 70 years those customers and communities have been growing, adapting, sharing and changing our places into their places.

At Stockland we believe in environmental sustainability, but just as importantly, we believe in social sustainability: we create places where communities thrive.

We make the place.
You make them your own.

Lyra

Welcome to Lyra

For over 70 years, Stockland has been a leader in creating and curating connected communities. By listening to our customers and communities, we grow, adapt and transform our spaces into your places.

Lyra is shaping up to become a united community that empowers you to connect with what truly matters for your future – people, place and amenities.

Stockland acknowledges the Wurundjeri People as the Traditional Custodians and knowledge holders of the land the Lyra community is situated on and where we live, work and play, and pay our respects to their Elders past, present and emerging.

Furthermore, we extend our respect and gratitude to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples, businesses and communities and thank them for enriching our nation with their diverse languages, rich cultures and inherent connections to Country.

A connected community is...

A place where everything you need is nearby

Located 46.7km north of Melbourne's CBD, Stockland Lyra is designed to ensure everything you need is within walking distance from your home. From green spaces and retail amenities to transport links and education options, the future of Lyra will have it all.

A place with great access

Commuting to the city by car? You will enjoy quick and easy access to the Hume Freeway. Prefer the train? Donnybrook railway station is an 11km drive and the proposed Beveridge and Cloverton train stations will be just minutes away. All options connect you directly to the Melbourne CBD with minimal fuss.

A place for learning

Enrolling your children at the proposed primary school means they can foster friendships and grow with each other, all the way through to Year 12 at the proposed secondary school. You're also perfectly positioned with a great range of existing early, private and government schools in the area, including three early learning centres, two secondary schools and four primary schools.

A place where neighbours become friends

The beauty of living in a tight-knit community means that your neighbours become lifelong friends. Stockland's Community Development program plans to host fun events to encourage our community to mingle and get to know one another.

A place where you can connect with nature

With a tranquil waterway running through the centre of the community, approximately 23 hectares of open space and bushwalks close by, there are so many reasons to stay active and connect with the great outdoors at Lyra.
